

Advanced Historical Vocabulary

Agriculture – Anything to do with the practice of farming.

The agriculture was not advanced enough to produce lots of wheat.

Bias – If something is one sided, or not looking at both sides of the argument it is biased.

I think that this source is biased because it doesn't show the other side of the story.

Contemporary – Means current or modern.

The issue of global warming is a very contemporary issue.

Context – The setting in which the event occurs.

The context of Hitler's rise to power can only be understood if we understand a range of factors.

Culture – The behaviour and way of life for a group of people.

In our culture we expect that people will look after and support each other.

Domestic – To do with where someone belongs and lives.

Domestic policy refers to government policies designed to help or change people in their own country.

Economic – Refers to the production and trade of wealth, goods, and money.

An economic factor that helped to bring Hitler to power was hyperinflation.

Export – Sending resources or goods to another country.

I exported lots of frozen food to China.

Import\Imported – Bringing in resources or goods from a foreign country to use.

We imported lots of electrical imports from China to help us set up our factory.

Innovation – Newly created or introduced idea or method.

The creation of the radio was an excellent innovation. It was a really innovative idea.

Perspective – A person's way of seeing or interpreting events.

Even though the poor man stole some bread, from my perspective, it was acceptable.

Political – Referring to the government and power.

Hitler became a very powerful political leader. It was political factors that helped to bring Hitler to power.

Social – Referring to people and how they interact.

Some social problems, such as rioting, existed which made people look for extreme solutions to their problems.

Technology – Tools and methods used by people to solve practical problems.

The iPad is a great piece of technology for helping me to organise my life.